Statutory Requirements

Synopsis of the Statutory Requirements of the Several States and Territories as They Apply to Legal Reserve, Old Line Life Insurance Companies of Other States

In the following pages will be found concise statements of the statutory requirements for the admission of life insurance companies to do business in the respective States. In this brief form, the synopses are intended more as a hint than an actual guide, for it is not anticipated that any company in entering a State would be satisfied with anything less than the statutes themselves as their reliance as to conditions. Our summary, however, may be accepted as correct as far as it goes.

It has been our aim in preparing these synopses of the statutes to secure uniformity for all the States and to give the essential requirements in as brief a space as possible consistent with the statement of the facts. The synopsis for each State was sent to the supervising officer of such State and returned to us with his approval to date, or with such corrections as he deemed essential. We believe that the information given in this condensed form is as correct as it is possible to make it and will be sufficient to indicate to all interested the statutory requirements of the several States and Territories.

ALABAMA.

Supervising Officer, FRANK N. JULIAN, Superintendent of Insurance, Montgomery.

Agent's License.—Each agent, $5.00; general or special agent, same as local agent; date of expiration, December 31.

Annual Statement.—Final date for filing March 1, time extended on satisfactory reasons to Insurance Commissioner.

Anti-Discrimination Law.—No company or agent shall pay or allow, or offer to pay or allow, any rebate of premium; nor shall any particular policyholder of the same class be allowed any advantage in dividends or other benefits to accrue thereon, or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever, not specified in the policy contract.

Attorney for Service.—Insurance Commissioner.

Board and Special Contracts, Sale of Stock with Insurance.—Prohibited.

Company License.—Expires December 31. Annual license fee to be paid to Insurance Commissioner on or before March 1.

County Tax.—None.

EXAMINATION.—The Insurance Commissioner may examine at his discretion, but may accept the sworn published statement made to and approved by the proper official of the company's home State. Fee, actual expense incurred, including per diem of examiners.

FEES.—Annual fees for company's license, $101 and $10 to Secretary of State for permit. No other annual fees. For copy of any paper on file with the Insurance Commissioner ten cents per 100 words, and $1 for seal to certificates.

FUNDS.—Company to furnish sworn certificate from State official with whom deposit is made that it has at least $100,000 in approved securities, consisting of bonds of State, or United States bonds or notes, or bonds secured by mortgages on real estate for double the amount on deposit with the proper official of some State.

GAIN AND LOSS EXHIBIT REQUIRED.—Incorporated in annual statement.

IMPAIRMENT OF CAPITAL.—When actual funds, exclusive of capital, are less than liabilities, Insurance Commissioner may revoke license.

INCONTESTABILITY.—No company shall contest a claim on the plea of fraud or irregularities in application after two annual premium payments have been made, but must pay the full amount of policy within sixty days after proofs of death have been received at the home office.

MISREPRESENTATION.—No misrepresentation, written or oral, in the negotiation of a contract or in the application or proofs of loss, shall defeat or void the policy unless such misrepresentation is made with actual intent to deceive, or unless the matter misrepresented increases the risk.

Effective as of this date (Nov. 22, 1920), back-dating of policies to arrive at a younger age is permissible: provided, that the assured shall in no event be made to rate at an age more than one year younger, according to his age at next birthday, than his age at the time of his application: and provided further, that the full amount of the regular annual premium for the whole period covered by such back-dating be included and collected.

In all cases where premium payments on insurance policies are deferred, or notes are accepted in payment of premiums, such notes must provide for interest from the date on which the policy becomes effective; such interest rate to be not more than the legal rate and not less than the policy loan rate provided for in the policy contract so issued. Companies or agents accepting notes in payment for premiums in violation of this rule will subject themselves to the penalty of having their license revoked.

No officer, director or agent thereof, shall issue or circulate, or cause or permit to be issued or circulated, any estimate, illustration, circular or statement of any sort misrepresenting the terms of any policy issued by it or the benefits or advantages promised thereby, or in the dividends or share of surplus to be received thereon, or shall use any name or title of any policy or class of policies misrepresenting the true nature thereof. THE PROVINCES OF CANADA

General Notes on Federal and Provincial Legislation.

Under the British North America Act the provinces of Canada are given power to incorporate companies for provincial objects. The Dominion Parliament has unrestricted power to incorporate companies. This dual right of incorporation is responsible for the existence in Canada of insurance companies incorporated by the Parliament of Canada and transacting business throughout Canada subject to provincial registration for taxation purposes, and at the same time of companies incorporated by the Legislature of one or other of the provinces of Canada and operating apart altogether from jurisdiction of the Dominion.

Until the year 1916 there was doubt as to whether the provincially incorporated company could operate apart from Dominion jurisdiction outside the province by which it was incorporated, but by a decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in that year, it was decided that a provincial company has the capacity to accept powers granted it by other provinces to carry on its business in those provinces.

The same condition disposed of the question as to the right of the Dominion Parliament to impose upon companies incorporated outside of Canada a condition requiring a license from the Dominion Government before transacting business in Canada. This power their Lordships held was given to the Dominion under the headings, "Regulation of Trade and Commerce" and "Naturalization of Aliens" in the British North America Act.

The companies operating at the present time under license from the Dominion Government receive approximately 91 per cent of the total fire insurance premiums, over 99 per cent of the total life insurance premiums, 95 per cent of the total casualty insurance premiums and 48 per cent of the total fraternal insurance premiums received in Canada.

Canadian companies may deduct from valuation of each policy the difference between the annual premium (provided this is not less than the net annual premium for a whole life level premium insurance) and the corresponding net premium for a one-year term insurance. This deduction is reduced each year after the issue of the policy by an equal proportion so that at the end of the fifth year the policy is valued as above. Valuation as of December 31 each year to be filed on or before April 1 in succeeding year. Quinquennial valuation to be made. (None of above applicable to companies with Dominion license.)

Assessment Associations and Fraternal Orders

The following brief synopses of the laws of the different States regarding the admission of assessment associations and fraternal orders will indicate the special requirements. For names of supervising officers see list of State officials.

ALABAMA.

The law of Alabama distinguishes between mutual aid associations and assessment life associations. Mutual aid, benefit and industrial companies or associations are defined as those issuing insurance against contingencies such as the birth or death of a child, upon marriage, death, sickness, or physical disability, and to pay money or render aid to him or to others dependent upon him or beneficiary designated by him not exceeding the amount governed by the following limitations as to weekly benefits and death benefits to the insured or beneficiary. * * * The association's charter, together with the constitution, by-laws and certificate of membership or policy, must be submitted to the Insurance Commissioner; a membership of 500 bona fide members must be maintained, and from $1000 to $5000, according to amount of policy, weekly benefit or death indemnity, paid in as a benefit fund. Said fund may be in cash or satisfactory securities deposited with the Department. Annual reports to be filed by March 1. Alabama companies are allowed to set off against said licenses and taxes such amounts as may be paid as tax upon property of such company. The Insurance Commissioner shall act as attorney for service. The Insurance Commissioner has supervision of mutual aid and assessment life associations. Assessment companies must have 100 members and $250,000 insurance in force to procure a charter. A deposit of $5000 with the State is required upon receipt of charter, and $1000 thereafter for each million at risk up to $100,000. No policyholder can be held liable for losses or liabilities of an association by reason of his being a member thereof. Assessment companies of other States must have on deposit in the State where it was incorporated at least $100,000 for the benefit of all the policyholders. Annual statements must be filed on or before March 1, showing the condition of the company on December 31 preceding, and its transactions for the year. Fee, $101. The amount of every contingency insured against must be specifically stated in the policy.

Fraternal Orders.—The requirements of fraternal orders are embodied in an act which is, without amendment, the Uniform Fraternal bill agreed upon by the national fraternal organizations and the convention of Insurance Commissioners. This act defines fraternal benefit societies and their form of government, provides what form of certificates shall be issued, how and where funds may be invested, requires annual statements, and gives the Commissioner power to examine into the affairs of any society at his discretion. The legal minimum standard of valuation of certificates is fixed as the National Fraternal Congress mortality table, with interest assumption of not more than four per cent.

Uniform Fraternal Bill amended so as to regulate mergers, transfers and reinsurance. Same must be with a licensed fraternal beneficiary society.

ARIZONA.

No life insurance company or association, other than fraternal beneficiary associations which issued contracts, the performance of which is contingent upon the payment of assessments or calls upon its members, shall do business within this State, except such companies or associations as now are licensed to do business within this State, and which shall value their assessment policies or certificates of membership as yearly renewable term contracts according to the standard of valuation of life insurance policies prescribed by the laws of this State. Every such company or association must have assets of at least $200,000 invested in securities such as are approved by this act, and must have paid in full all legal death claims for the last twelve months. Every such company or association shall, on or before February 15 of each year, file with the Corporation Commission a statement, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by the Corporation Commission, showing the true condition of the company or association, as of December 31 next preceding, and shall pay a premium tax as otherwise provided in this act.

ARKANSAS.

Arkansas has no special laws relating to assessment associations, but every insurance company without capital, seeking to do business in the State, is required to execute a bond in the sum of $20,000 for the protection of policyholders, to be approved and filed with the Insurance Commissioner of State. New York Conference Bill regulating fraternal beneficiary societies passed by General Assembly of 1917 now in effect.

Preliminary Documents.—The laws of this State no longer provide for the organization or authorization of assessment life or accident or health insurance associations; the same having been repealed by Chapter 83, Acts of the 32d General Assembly. Assessment life insurance associations now authorized to do business in Iowa may continue so to do provided they value their assessment policies or certificates of membership as yearly renewable term policies according to the standard of valuation of life insurance policies prescribed by the laws of this State.

Section 1798-a was amended in 1917 by adding thereto the following: Provided, however, that the Insurance Commissioner of this State may authorize any health or accident insurance company or association organized under the laws of any other State or Territory, to do business in this State, if, under the laws of such State or Territory health and accident insurance companies or associations organized under the laws of this State are permitted to do business in such State.

Attorney.—Association must designate the Commissioner of Insurance its attorney to accept service of legal process.

Annual Statements.—Annual statements must be filed on or before March 1, showing the condition of the association December 31 preceding; certificate issued to association required to be published once a week for four weeks in some newspaper published at the capital city.

Stipulated Premium Companies.—The stipulated premium law has been repealed, and this form of association cannot be organized in the State.

Assessment Accident Associations.—Section 1794 of the code was amended in 1907 by adding thereto the following:

The provisions of this section shall apply to fraternal beneficiary associations doing exclusively an accident insurance business, and upon compliance with the provisions of this chapter (82) and the provisions of Chapter 8 of Title 9 of the code, so far as the same are applicable, such associations may be authorized to transact business. Further organization or admission prohibited. Chap. 18-34 G. A.

Fraternal Orders.—Every such association shall, on or before the first day of March of each year, make and file with the Commissioner of Insurance a report for the year ending on the 31st day of December immediately preceding. Such association shall not employ paid agents in soliciting or procuring members, except in the organization or building up of subordinate bodies or granting members inducements to procure new members. Examinations may be made not less frequently than once in two years. Before any such association can be authorized, copy of by-laws, rules, articles of incorporation and plan of business must be submitted to Commissioner of Insurance and Attorney-General. Fee for certificate of authority or renewal of same, $25. To obtain a certificate, applications on at least 500 persons for $1000 each must be in hand, and said certificate will not be renewed if the membership falls below the above requirements. Foreign associations must have 1000 members holding $1,000,000 insurance before they will be authorized. Fraternal orders are exempt from local taxes on funds in their possession. Fraternal beneficiary associations and societies organized under the laws of Iowa are required to invest their reserve or emergency fund accumulations in the same class of securities as the old line legal reserve life insurance companies are required to invest in and deposit same with the Commissioner of Insurance.

In 1907 amendments were passed relating to rates of fraternal beneficiary societies in which it is provided that no association except those already authorized at the date of passage of the act may transact business in the State upon rates lower than those of the National Fraternal Congress; permitting fraternal beneficiary societies, etc., to purchase and own real estate, erect buildings and occupy the same; amending Senate File No. 22, providing for the investment of funds of fraternal beneficiary societies, etc.

Societies operating upon National Fraternal Congress rates of mortality must have policies valued. Chap. 18-34 G. A. Section 1839-j of the Code requires that certificates issued on the basis of the N. F. C. Table and four per cent interest (or higher standard), shall be valued in the same manner as policies of level premium life insurance. This valuation is to determine the reserve liability. Section 1839-l requires that all accumulations of domestic fraternals, "held in trust for the purpose of fulfillment" of certificates, shall be invested in certain specified securities which shall be deposited with the Commissioner of Insurance. The valuation discloses the amount that should be accumulated as a reserve in respect of business classified in a group paying N. F. C. (or higher) rates.

Life Insurance History

Yearly Business of Active United States Life Insurance Companies for Twenty Years, 1904-1923

The first State insurance department in the United States was established by act of the Massachusetts Legislature in 1855, and since that time annual reports have been issued by an increasing number of departments, and with growing completeness and fullness of detail, until at the present time nearly every feature of the insurance business is fully reported and brought under review for the enlightenment and benefit of the general insuring public.

There are now about three hundred active level premium American life insurance companies that are licensed and report to the various insurance departments, the principal items of whose statements are presented in the following pages, thereby saving laborious research through the various volumes of insurance reports. The figures in this department cover the twenty years 1904-1923, inclusive, for all active organizations.

A complete statistical history of all active United States life insurance companies, from the date of organization to the close of 1910, is contained in the work Life Insurance History, 1843-1910, published by The Spectator Company, price $5. A copy of that work, in connection with the annual volume of The Insurance Year Book, will show the entire history of the life insurance business to date.

STATISTICS OF ASSESSMENT LIFE ASSOCIATIONS.

In the following tables we present the statistics of a large number of assessment associations, both life and accident, and fraternal societies showing their transactions and financial condition for two years. These figures have been carefully compiled from official reports made to insurance departments, or from reports specially furnished to us for THE YEAR BOOK. The comparative form in which they are presented lends special importance to them:

LIFE INSURANCE BY STATES

The following tables show the business transacted in 1923 in the States named by the various life insurance companies. While not attempting to analyze the business in individual States, the tables exhibit the amount of policies written; the premiums and losses of each company, and the amount of insurance in force at the beginning and close of the year. It is simply an exhibit of the volume of business in the various States and Territories, and conveys an approximate idea of the total business.
